Because it looks good? The shallowness of that statement is repulsive. Who in his right mind would want to be remembered with words of such feeble character? The phrase serves only to reinforce the superficial stereotype so often tagged on Lake Forest High School.

On the other hand, it's true. All stereotypes are based on fact, and the fact is: everything seen and done here DOES look good. We're a good-looking school. Visitors and passersby marvel at the building's mansion-like grandeur and small school charm. The dense foliage and immense lawn that adorn the exterior add to its luxuriant beauty. These factors make for the school's extremely powerful and picturesque presence.

The inside is equally enchanting. Enormous windows provide welcome sun and tranquil places for study. The school's age allows for a unique blend of old and new, cosy hallways and high ceilinged classrooms, murals and trophy cases, everything that makes our school feel like home.

The appearance of our students matches that of the school. We look good. It is widely known that we here at Lake Forest High School are sharp dressers. This is not money. This is taste. Our sports teams look good. Blue and Gold. Those colors put a warm feeling of pride in the hearts of all Scouts, yet strike fear in the spines of our opponents. All in all, the fact that everything seen and done here looks good is without question.

But to concentrate solely on looks is to miss the point. Our pleasing veneer is a mere suggestion of the solid and rich foundation that our institution is built upon. Our strengths are numerous and impressive. Our athletic teams consistently compete in, and often win, state tournaments. We enjoy one of the highest academic standards in the state. The faculty at Lake Forest High School is much-praised and respected. Students are offered an immensely diverse and unusual curriculum, taking advantage of programs and facilities available in few other schools. The students here are encouraged to think freely, to research and learn independently, and to think for themselves. The experience at Lake Forest High School provides a platform, a base, which serves as a springboard, hurling us (but we are ready) into the professional world or into higher education. The theme of this book may be Because It Looks Good, but it looks good Because It Is Good.

Bec

A student reading the school newspaper says to me, "Hey, buddy, you seen this? Holy, smokes, it looks good!"

I say back, "Partial truth, bucko, it is good!"

Student life is o'plenty around here. During Pep Week, the halls were filled with blue and gold. At the end of a day, a student could look down the hall, as a young puppy might look at the furniture he just redecorated, and say, "I did that." It brings a lump to the throat.

Students here at LFHS take pride in what

"Holy smokes, it looks good!"
"Partial truth, bucko, it IS good!"

we do. That's because what we do we do well. Playing a part, playing an instrument, or just playing — good things are o'plenty around here.

cause it looks Good!

Homecoming Faces

in the Crowd

Queen Jill Stamison and her Court, Vicki Bertos, Cathy Harper, Tracy Olson, Tish O'Mara, and Andrea Volpe, reigned over Homecoming 1987. Festivities began with a full week of decorating, windows, doors, halls and each other, while the Seniors transformed the viaduct from Safari to Swing. Noontime games such as jello snarfing and tricycle races provided competition for even the least athletic among us.

The week concluded with a spirited pep rally Friday afternoon. There was class cheering, pom pom routines, cheerleader pyramids, the queen crowning and the awarding of decorating trophies. The weather held for the bonfire at West Campus and the dance that night was the best-attended in many years. If the weather was a little nippy at the football game, the players were as hot as usual, cooking the Fenton Bisons as they have all their North Suburban competition this year.

Laura Reynolds (Neilia Brown) overears Tom Lee (Mark Flummerfelt) make a date for disaster.

Technical Director David Miller confers with Student Producer Elizabeth Ford.

Laura tries unsuccessfully to talk to Tom's roommate Al (Steve Minsky).

Laura tries to reason with her persecuting Tom.

TEA AND SYMPATHY

Director Jay Criche chose Robert Anderson's "Tea and Sympathy" as the fall all-school play. Set in a private boys' school in New England, the play deals with the persecution of a student who is considered unmanly because he is different. Under Mr. Criche's superb direction the actors brought alive characters who are still among us and the audience could not miss the message so sensitively communicated that we often leap to judgments based on superficial evidence and too readily act on those judgements without considering their consequences.

David Miller's technical direction was flawless as were Carmen Lago's costumes.

Studio 15's All School Production "Exit the King"

While many people think the theater is absurd, Barbara Papp's Studio 15 production really is! The All School Production of "Exit the King," by Eugene Ionesco is from the Theater of the Absurd. The play, performed on November 12, 13 & 14, is a tale of the death of one man and of all mankind. It is a celebration of the marvelous accomplishments of mankind and a lamentation of his cruelty, wars, and devastation. Ionesco challenged the audience with an allegory, a paradoxical and absurd world. Although "Exit the King" is a play which demands a great deal from everyone, the cast handled it beautifully with much determination and skill. The fully professional cast and crew did so well, that they chosen to perform their play at the Thirteenth Annual Theater Festival in Normal, Illinois. Congratulations to all of those who made "Exit the King" a winner through out the state!

than they ever are on stage.

Don Tiffany hangs onto his throne.

Wendy gives Don a little push.

The queens share the stage.

Halloween Day

Because it looks good? Is looking like Mr. Olsen looking good? Most of us would answer no. So why do we do these things? According to ancient mythology, Halocus, the Greek God of morbid and sadistic rituals, was hit by a truck one day while crossing the street. The truck disappeared after the incident and wasn't found for thousands of years — not until trucks had been properly invented. It was found on October 31, 1922 in the basement of a charming English cottage. This location should have some deadly meaning for all who know about Satanic rituals. Since most of us know nothing, it means absolutely nothing to us. But that doesn't matter, it is still fun to dress up and make fun of our favorite teachers.

CABARET

Alex Harris (the M.C.) lets the show go on without him for a moment.

David Costello (Herr Schultz) says "Hallo".

Pit Orchestra Director George Borich rehearses his troops.

The chorus is never too tired to talk.

Don Tiffany and Steve Minsky won't be on the dark for long.

Dancers rehearse on the two level set.

"Life is a cabaret, old friend," says Sally Bowles, American expatriot heroine, of the musical "Cabaret," set in the early thirties in Nazi Germany. And her attitude represents that of the entire simplistic and naive cast of characters who cannot face reality and thus are easy prey for the all-consuming Nazi movement. Director Jay Criche says, "This musical is as relevant today as it was when it was first produced. There are still many Darth Vaders or androgynous MC's out there just waiting to pounce on a vulnerable society."

The set design, lighting and colors highlight and contrast the Nazi menace with the characters' naivete. Along with those assistant directors pictured here, Carmen Lago contributed much with her costume design.

Fraulein Schneider (Kim Bergen) relaxes as much as a German landlady can.

The chorus shows a little high Kicken.

Technical Director David Miller confers on set-building.

Winter Play: Mound Builders

Studio 15's winter production was Lanford Wilson's Mound Builders. Set simultaneously in Blue Shoals and Urbana, Illinois, Mound Builders is the story of an archaeological dig which brings not only fascinating discoveries about an ancient culture but equally dramatic discoveries about our own. Actors included Jenny Baker, Kevin Farley, Melissa Ritter, Stephanie Morse, Keith Borders, David Shih and Melinda William. Ryan Williams, Christine Sumner, Chad Turner, Heidi Mann, David Rapp and Paul Valenti worked behind the scenes with the guidance of Barbara Papp and Karen Daily.

Rocky Mount NC A Fair Exchange

This year, for the first time, Lake Forest High School hosted eighteen students from Rocky Mount North Carolina. This exchange was to show the Southerners what it was like in the North and vice versa. While the students were in Lake Forest they went to The Museum of Science and Industry, The Art Institute, The Sears Tower, Water Tower and The Hard Rock Cafe. While they were not in Chicago they spent time at Meredith Minster's, Hope Hender's and Chris Harris' homes at International Club parties. Some of the students were even accepted into the social life in Lake Forest and attended other gatherings besides those of the International Club students. All in all the exchange went very well and The International Club would like to do a similar event next year.

Chicago Bear Kevin Butler waits with his wife to get into the game in the auditorium.

Dimensions 88

T CENTRAL -> ->

Ticket Central was a busy place all week.

Part of the large crowds that filled the Public Room all week.

During Dimensions Week, sponsored jointly by the APT and the high school, there is truly "something for everyone." The week was developed to bring into the school a variety of speakers, creative artists, and entertainers who will enrich the education of all here — students and staff alike. This year two theater groups, the Trinity Square Ensemble and Remains Theatre presented scenes from Shakespeare and Moby Dick, while a third group, Touchstone Theater, talked about careers in the area. There were doctors and dietitians, artists and architects and archaeologists, physicists and poets, judges and jugglers. And there were performers of all kinds. Social studies teacher Mark Kurt "did" Dostoevsky, former student John Carbon conducted a music workshop, and graduates Margot McMahon, a sculptor, and Adria Bernardi, a writer, presented a class on their documentary exhibit created for Highwood's centennial.

This group was here to hear Phil Ponce.

The auditorium was packed for the lunchtime specials.

The gigantic being looms over the peaceful land. His frame is as wide as a mountain and his head scrapes the sky. His limbs are huge, his muscles like boulders. He is magnificent; all powerful and invincible. He surveys the tiny town and its people below. He chuckles. He walks down through its streets, breaking through the insignificant pavement as feeble pedestrians flee for safety. He kicks over cars and sends buildings to the ground. Train tracks twist like wire in his hands. He uproots trees and telephone poles, tossing them over his shoulder like twigs. He stops and grins as he nears his destination. Then his thundering feet punch the small green lawn. Kids scream and scatter, running for cover into the building which is dark, enveloped in his great shadow. He looks down at the little world of Lake Forest High School with casual disdain. He is a senior.

"He looks down at the little world of LFHS with casual disdain. He is a senior."

The female half of the Class of '88 would like to point out that, while the above copy may be accurate, it is disgustingly sexist and unnecessarily violent.

All the supers say "Why us"?

Ann Karlblom and Tim Farrell are waiting to help a friend in need.

Jenny Fitzgerald and Ben Dickinson help their favorite teacher in need.

Flagg Taylor and Amy Maentz finally find a spot where everyone can see just how spirited they really are.

Stan Hickory and Michelle Bagan can't help flirting even if it's only with the camera.

Best Actors Don Tiffany and Kim Bergen — look at those expressions. They're acting even when they look in the mirror.

Dave Eggers and Margie Bice always look at the world through Best Artist eyes.

But secretly they really know

Best Musicians Alex Harris and Michelle Fiore are warming up the old bass.

Jill Stamison and John Jackson take a break from all the hard work they put into being Best Athletes.

Bob Fiore and Kari Christopherson — no explanation needed, they're simply the Sexiest.

Vicki Bertsos and Russ Thomas don't have to fix their hair; they're the Best Looking anyway.

Paul Boese and Tracy Olsen show just how friendly they really are when a freshman crosses their senior star.

Jeff Pezza and Amy McEssy brighten up the hallways with their best Smiles.

These are the superlatives

Chris Lowery, Steve Valentine and Julie Wade speak no evil, see no evil and hear no evil. And they're Most Interesting?

Steve Tossey and Kristen Kaeding can't stand on the floor like the rest of us; that's why they're the Most Radical.

Before they're caught being Biggest Twitches, Vince Vaughn tries to hide Jen Goldsberry — or what is he planning?

Tish O'Mara and Todd Nelson pose by their car. But what would you expect from the Biggest Yuppies? Posing next to sushi?

Jenny Carmichel and Scott Robinson are blowing off some class to play pool at their favorite hangout, Hunters.

Most Intellectual Emily Sikorovsky and Vince Larson are caught in the library reading their favorites.

That you think are super

Holly Zeller and Rick Wolfgram can't believe their eyes. By winning the Most Gullible award, they're receiving a new car — free!

Mimi Minster and Jim Hooper are ready for their interview with Robin Leach. They'll be on "Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous" any day now.

Most-Likely-to-Succeed Margot Klimczak and Eric Vratimos have finally gotten their tractor started and are ready to roar off into the future.

Rob Pelinka and Amy Ford pose casually in the duds that make them Best Dressed.

"Super-Superlatives" Jessica Strachan and Mike Semersky just love the fact they were nominated the most times for the most varied categories — and came in second more times than any.

We're all super seniors!

I have seen the light!

Where'd the tour group go?

What game is this?

I think it's stuck.

Wipe that smile off your face, nobody messes wit' Mr. B.

We may be smiling but you're not gettin' out of the parking lot.

U-2 may find the cure.

And for his next trick, the amazing Wolfgram . . .

Definitely not a good day in the neighborhood.

Pass it on, tell Julie the test's over.

Now this is, I think, a shoe.

What do you mean, I should leave him home when I go to college?

Lord, what fools these mortals be!

I think we might as well as go back to the school cafeteria.

You guys, I'm not lying, that was the Church Lady!

Juniors

Junior year — we're upperclassmen now. We're all driving; since we can't park in the lot yet, life has become day-to-day excitement. Monday they're towing across the tracks, Tuesday at 1200 Edgewood, Wednesday there's a speedtrap on McKinley and when the tickets under the mattress get found, we're all going to be grounded. Well, it was bound to happen when PSAT scores got here anyway. "You're not going to get into Harvard with those numbers, Bucko." So we'll go the extra-curricular route. Join intramurals, you don't have to try out for those. What do you mean, yearbook's over?

"You're not going to get to Harvard with those scores!"

But it's still looking good. We know our way around, we've got some clout now. And we've got a little time before the pressure cooker of applications heats up.

Sophomores

Sophomore year — when looking good is feeling blue, feeling that blue slip in your hand. We're not at the bottom anymore, we know our way around and we're not intimidated by anyone, well, maybe Mr. Olson. We may still be underclassmen but we're over the frosh, and we let them know it. We've finished with freshman health class and Bio I, and Romeo and Juliet are long since dead. We're ready for heavier stuff. Our teams are winners, in fact the whole class of '90 is a winning one!

*"Looking good is feeling blue,

Our attendance is up, because we're in drivers' ed, and the open road is calling. And we're waiting by the phone.

Freshmen

It's hard to list all the things that are good about being in high school. First, it's great to be treated more like adults; teachers seem to respect your opinion more. Then there's the extra freedom, more places to go and things to do. There are more clubs and activities to join. And there's a larger variety of people, some of them new and unique, it's nice not being with the same old group. Then there's the snack bar, open all day; you can eat all day if you want to. And it's easier to ditch — more places to hide.

"High school's great! You can eat all day if you want to."

Of course it's not all great. School starts earlier, classes are longer. And finals are looming. But on the whole it's looking good!

Oh gosh, academics! These nifty people are the teachers, administrators, counselors and a new breed of ring masters, the paraprofessionals. They are here to educate the students while keeping them in line and forbidding various naughtiness. In order to do this successfully, the faculty employs various medieval methods: tiger pits, stake burnings, stretching boards, iron maidens, thumbscrews and other random sadistic devices guaranteed to persuade. "Into the pit, you self-righteous little slimeball" is frequently heard, usually in or near the gym. The goal at LFHS is to provide a fine education. The student is free to achieve and enjoy . . . or else!

"Into the pit, you self-righteous little slimeball!"

But seriously, folks, the above rumor to the contrary, have you ever seen anyone grow taller when it wasn't due to hormones, or anyone with tiger scratches on the back?

Social Studies

Unless one is planning on living in a cave or in upper Nebraska, a good helping of the Social Studies is good medicine. After a good serving of X and Y, it's good to get back to people, past and present. A charismatic stew of teachers brings us in touch with our history. What happened in 1066, 1492, or 1969 isn't important if we don't understand why. The learned and wacky faculty helps us to get under the facts so we can make some history of our own.

Stepping into one of the Foreign Language classrooms, one would expect to find a robust, mysterious teacher, walls decorated with fragments of other cultures, and the tantalizing sounds of a language spoken so perfectly that it hints of strange and wonderful lands. Clubs are an essential part of the high school experience and that truism is in evidence at LFHS. Every student has at least one, ranging from the Standard Caveman's Club, similar to a frozen slab of meat, to the newer Spartan/Fascist, Death/Destructo Club, featured on Saturday morning kiddie cartoon shows. The luxury models come covered with knives, poison, thorns, needles, and, worst of all, peanut butter. The weekly fights, called "Club Meetings," take place after school and are sanctioned by the Student Activities Committee. Attendance is usually big at the beginning of the year, but falls off after several meetings.

"He used to be such a nice boy before he started going to those CLUB meetings," CONCERNED PARENT.

All meetings are strictly B.Y.O.C. (bring your own club), with the exception of some sanctioned by the athletic department.

Where Can The Honor Societies Be Found?

National Honor Society is an organization for students in the top quarter of their class who display the qualities of scholarship, leadership, and service. Juniors and Seniors are eligible for membership. Each year the National Honor Society works on a service project. This year the members served as volunteer workers for the special olympics held at L.F.H.S. The National Honor Society also attends several cultural outings throughout the year. With the help of our advisor Mrs. Sanborn being a part of N.H.S. is a fulfilling experience.

New Artists' Guild

A new force burst upon the club scene this year, a new club, a club founded and run by students, a club full of new and radical ideas, the New Artists' Guild. Before this year, there hasn't been a club for artists in the school for almost five years, and that club was more of a workshop. Dave Eggers and Jeff Stout saw the need for a new club for people who could paint, draw, and design. They enlisted art teacher Mrs. Sentman to sponsor the club and Department Chair Mr. Hjortness to help out. The club has about thirty members.

The New Artists' Guild produces the majority of the artwork one sees around the school. From publicity posters to fine art in classrooms, you're likely to see the N.A.G. symbol in the corner. The guild also is in charge of illustrating the newspaper and Young Idea. At press time the guild was beginning work on a mural on the third floor.

The guild is an equal employee union. All members get the same number of jobs and everyone is encouraged to produce artwork to be shown throughout the school. The New Artists' Guild is hopefully getting artists the respect they deserve, but have long been denied. Let art be known and shown!

New Artists' Guild founders Dave Eggers and Jeff Stout "watch the birdie" with artists' eyes.

The Young Idea produces the school's literary publication. The book includes poems, stories, artwork, and photographs by students.

In the recent past the club's book had suffered from a small budget and a small staff. But no more! Ha Ha! The Young Idea staff has more than tripled in size, and the budget more than doubled.

The club spends the first half of the year reading and reviewing pieces submitted by students from all grades and English classes. Once the work that is to go into the book has been selected, the club goes into super hyper-space ultra production. This involves editing, proofing, layout, glueing, cutting, pasting, yelling, and running around the school looking for small pieces of paper. The entire publication is produced by the group — the publisher never lays a hand on it.

Because of increased interest this year, many related activities were possible. The group took a field trip to local elementary schools, helping youngins to put together their own mini-books. The merry band also visited a local printing press, learning about big-time publishing. Young Idea also designed and sold a record number of December calendars.

The book itself has been expanded, rehauled, and vastly improved. The look of the book now is very professional, interesting and exciting. Young Idea is expecting record sales, and the future of the group looks quite nice.

Because it looks Good. This Year's "Forest Trails" Editorial Staff spent months trying to incorporate a theme with meaning and finally selected the above sentence. Perhaps you think we're being presumptuous when we make this statement but it looks good because it is good. The "Forest Trails" staff realizes this and hopefully as you page through this yearbook you'll see how it is good also.

Under the Leadership of Jennifer Fitzgerald and her alphabetically insync partner in crime Amy Ford, this year's yearbook has tried to undergo a few changes and hopefully bring you a lot of added assistance of Sports Editor Meredith Petran, Clubs Editor Liz Caponigri, Teachers Editor Anne Edwards, Underclassmen Editor Chris O'Brien, Photo Editor Scott Bolton and of course the super teacher sponsor Mrs. Silber. When doing the final editing, Jen said "the yearbook is looking good," to which Amy replied, "What do you mean it looks good, it is good."

FOREST SCOUT

What do you mean llamas are larger than frogs?

Pete, Dave, quit with the biological aspects and think deadline.

With the help of sophisticated, savvy reporters; a world famous editorial staff; and advisors Becky Mueller and Michelle Carr, the Forest Scout reached new heights of journalistic prowess this year.

The Scout is a bi-monthly paper; issues were set up to fall on the Friday before special school events and holidays. Besides feature spreads, the Scout covered more controversial subjects such as the infamous "senior paper", partying at LFC, and date rape.

Because of the use of computers in layout this year, the editors of the Scout had a lot of flexibility. Articles were timely, and contrary to popular belief, the editors did not always have to stay up all-night the Friday before publication.

The Debate Club had an active, well-traveled season this year. Trophies and personal bests were obtained by many team members. The team met once a week for discussions, research and practice debates on such topics as: Should random mandatory drug testing be required? Should there be mandatory testing for AIDS? Where does personal freedom leave off and societal good begin? If you want to learn how to think on your feet, join debate.

The Academic Decathlon Team was just about to compete in the state tournament as the yearbook went to press. Since October they had been meeting weekly to listen to lectures, read, and practice writing and speaking in the various areas which will be tested. The team consists of two "A" students, two "B" students, and two "C" students; the remaining members are alternates who have to be prepared to sit in for a counterpart who cannot make the competition for some reason.

The Forensics Team is a varsity team which competes in interscholastic tournaments all around the state of Illinois. The term "forensics" (which often confuses people who watch reruns of "Quincy") refers to an argumentative exercise or discourse, so the club is involved in various speech-making events as well as in events such as oral interpretation, verse and prose reading, and humorous and serious drama cuttings. The group attends about eight tournaments, some of them lasting two or three days, during the season which runs from October to March. It sponsors its own intramural tournament in May. This year's competitors did better than ever and brought home numerous trophies and awards.

Tech Crew

Tech crew has always made the impossible look good. Besides, from thirty feet away, who could tell the walls weren't square or the fireplace was made out of foam, or the books were only one-inch thick.

David Carbol designed multiple levels with multiple colors. Dan Summers, Zeke Peters and Jamie Sentman made it all look good with lights. Piero Camoletto made the fire dance when it was supposed to, without burning down the set, while Bob Thomson made the phones light up on cue, and broke a window or two. Aris Bismonte and Jennifer Fitzgerald got the props to the right place, mixing a lot of tea and water, while Phil Truskowski and Amy Ford helped. Kurt Koerwitz and Tim Joosten helped run thousands of feet of cable to dozens of lights in odd places for just the right effect. Steve Thomson and Chris Boutin made it all sound good, with help from Scott Chidester. Fred Livingston called the right cues, while Jim Nass and Rob Knight made the lighting computer perform them. Yasir Shaikh, Mark Hoffman, Gary Tucker and Garrick Bunting mastered spots. Jarame Baldwin and Lars Engman joined to help build the sets with Rob North, Scott Douglas, Josh Trent, and Ian Gordon. Niki Triplett set the standard for woman on the crew, and was joined by Liz Caponigri, Heidi Mann and Christie Hoaglund.

And all this was put together by Tech Director Rick Wolfgram, whose motto was "It looks good because it IS good." The crew certainly didn't let him, or the audiences, down.

This year International club had a very successful year. Every month they planned a new activity ranging from roller skating to baking Belgian Christmas cookies. This year's exchange students Julio Molina from Argentina, Nick "Dude #1" De Dorlodot from Belgium, and David Ceballos from Spain made many new friends. Luciana Dos Santos from Brazil got a send off party in January, and Angelica Tayar also from Brazil was welcomed. The triumvirate of Presidents Alex Frank, Mimi Minster, and Rick Wolfgram, had a great time working together and everyone loved the sharing of all the cultures that were brought together. Although some clubs just looked good, International Club was good.

German Club

German Club is about meeting people and making friends. The meetings are on Tuesdays, once or twice a month. We have numerous enjoyable activities, most related to German culture. These include making pretzels and cooking German foods, field trips, picnics, and "Kaffeeklatsch" (German Breakfast Club). Each year, we sell Advent Calendars to raise money, some of which is given to charitable organizations. This year, we helped Student Council fill some stockings for the needy children of Lake County. In the winter, we have a movie night. Everyone is welcome in this club — we speak English at our meetings!

STS, Philosophy, SADD, Biology

The Student to Student Club, sponsored by Mr. Brooke, began as a group to help new students adjust to LFHS. The club has evolved into a group concerned with the problems faced by high school students in all areas of their lives — and they translate that concern into action. Again this year they have attended peer-counseling sessions to enable them to help their fellow students with their problems and concerns. In addition to offering peer counseling, the club continues its active participation in the orientation of incoming freshmen and new students.

One might think the Philosophy Club would spend its time discussing philosophy. And sometimes they actually do that. But often they also amuse themselves with discussions about how they feel, what is disturbing in their lives and the world around them, and, even more often, pure nonsense. It is a place to get those things which have been eating away at you for a long time off your chest. At Philosophy Club you can find shy people, but you can also find a guy who will risk his reputation by actually wearing a dress to school. There are optimists and pessimists, outgoers and lazy bums, but we all have at least one thing in common: we all have something to say. And Philosophy Club is the place to say it.

SADD is an organization form to help prevent the all too frequent problem of drinking and driving. Its main goal is to increase student awareness of this very serious problem and to prevent its touching their lives. They also project their message to the community at large by visiting grade schools and especially by putting up their now-familiar greeting signs during the holiday season.

Membership in the Biology Club is open to anyone who wants to participate in the posted activities on a first-come, sign-up basis. Most

The fall months are devoted to prairie seed collection for our on-going restoration project of the Lake Forest Open Lands. In winter and early spring, the activities are labs and other exercises that because of time, money, or lack of interest do not fit into regular Bio 1 schedules. The club meets every other week on Friday afternoons and/or Saturday mornings.

Pep Club, The Bleacher Bums

Pep Club was created to inspire all the Lake Forest athletes and to give them the "winning edge." The group meets at all sporting events and leads the cheers. They also drag out their lawn chairs and form the Lawn Chair Club which supports the Lacrosse and Badminton teams. Next year, they may change their subtitle from The Bleacher Bums to The Lawn Chair Bums.

Outdoor Ed

The Outdoor Ed Club is a continuation of the class. The people who enjoy climbing and bicycle riding meet after school every other week and do some form of physical activity that most Lake Forest High School students normally get a chance to perform — not that they'd want to.

Balladiers Mixed Chorus

Just as the minor leagues are to major league baseball, just like off Broadway shows are to Broadway, so are the Balladiers and the Mixed Chorus to the Foresters. The two groups provide the training ground in voice necessary to audition for the Forester Singers while at the same time providing the opportunity to sing and be heard in concert. The two groups perform at the Pops, Christmas and Spring concerts as well as singing in and out of school for various groups.

"Even if I'm never ready to try out for Foresters, this has been a fun year and I've learned how to project my voice — for what that's worth," said an anonymous sophomore about her experience. "Mr. Haskett has taught me a lot about music," said another.

Orchestra

Under Director Sara Baldwin, the school orchestra has been growing in size during the last several years. She works on a one to one basis with the younger students and gives them the extra attention to develop their talents. According to freshman Meg Caponigri, "Orchestra offered me a way to meet other students my own age and to work with older students I'd never have a chance to meet any other way." All agreed that after a successful concert they felt that immediate gratification that other areas of study just don't offer.

This year, 1987-88, was an "off year" for the Forester Singers, not that they sang off-key during their concerts, but that they did not tour Europe "on five songs a day" as they do during alternate years. This year they devoted themselves to practicing, performing and, of course, selling citrus so that they can go abroad in '88-'89.

The Computer Club has had a very successful year. The activities such as advanced graphics color programs along with use of modems for communication with other computer terminals provided educational experience and new fun and excitement for the "Hackers" in computer club. This year's highlight was the use of the school computers to correspond with Lake Forest National Bank and the diversion of funds to Mr. Foss's personal Swiss Bank Account. Second to this event was the annual attempt to converse with top secret executives in the National Government. The quote of the year comes from Alessa Di Briti while reflecting on her gifts, she "Hackin' like no other" until "the glass is empty."

Amnesty International is a new club about to be formed this year. Once they become a club they will join thousands of other schools that also have a chapter. This club will then write letters to the government and make pleas to get hostages out of foreign countries. As of yet this club does not have the approval of the student council but, it won't be long before they too join the ranks as another elite club at Lake Forest High School.

Quill and Scroll is a group of students at the high school who have been recognized for their dedication to publications. This could be either the newspaper or the yearbook. The elite few who belong to this group know what the words deadline, copy and "Dean Strain just talked to Abe and is on his way up means." This club enjoys their annual meeting on Honors Night where they can pass on the legacy to younger leading publishers.

What a year for the radio station! It has received a complete face lift — all four walls have been repainted and new equipment has been attained. The cafeteria air waves were constantly jammin' to the sounds of our DJ's. Sarah DeYoung was very pleased with the success of the station. After two years of being WLFH's Grand poo-bah she was quoted in saying "I guess if there has to be an alternative to study hall, what could be better?"

The legendary General Al Buckowich once said: "Sports are the other fifty percent of education." This statement is incorrect. As we all know, sports make up exactly 88% of one's high school experience. But let's not quibble. Athletes don't quibble; they hit each other. Good solid action, man (woman)! We live and sleep sports. As Sartre once put it: "Sports are the other fifty percent of life." Like Buckowich, he was wrong; the figure is higher.

We here at Lake Forest have at this time the finest and most extensive sports program the world has ever known. Millions of sporting fanatics flock to the school every year to observe and marvel. Mr. Bertsos is considered a saint in most Latin American countries. The Russians have tried to hire Tommy Myers. Why? The secret can be found on the eighth screen of Mario Brother.

"Sports are the other fifty percent of what?"

During President Reagan's last inaugural address, delivered on our own basketball court, he said: "Sports are the other fifty percent of politics." And with that, he suited up and became an honorary member of the Scouts' roster.

cause it looks Good! Sports

The 1987 varsity football team had the most successful season in the history of Lake Forest High School. The Scouts accumulated an 11 and 1 record, including an undefeated regular season and conference championship. The Scouts also advanced to the quarter finals of the IHSA state playoffs. This matches the effort of the 1978 squad as the only teams in this school's history to make it that far. It was a year of firsts for the Scouts, and the most astounding was first year coach Tom Myers. He replaced retired Coach George Berry and kept the winning attitude Coach Barry had instilled over the years. Not knowing what to expect from the varsity level did not hinder Coach Myers' efforts, the incredible record speaks for itself. Another first for this season was that more players were nominated and finally chosen for All-Conference honors than ever before. Out of the thirteen nominated the nine award winners were: John Jackson, Dean Baldwin, Matt Sloan, Sean Royer, Jeff Pezza, Dan Mulligan, Matt Douglass, Wes Thornburgh, and Doug Cayce.

Mulligan, Douglass, Sloan, Baldwin, Jackson, and Cayce were elected to the All-County team. John Jackson and Dan Mulligan were selected to represent the Scouts as members of the All-Area team. In 1947 the Scouts had a player as an honorable mention to the All-State team, this year John Jackson was elected as a first team member on the All-State football team. A precedent of excellence has been set for all future varsity football teams, the challenge is there. The 1987 football squad will always be remembered as the winningest team in Lake Forest High School history.

The 1987 girls field hockey team was robbed this year. No police were called; no investigation was held. The judges in black and white ruled against Lake Forest in the State Tournament, and handed the title to Homewood-Flossmoor.

The boo-boo that ruined the chances for the Scouts was a call made by the refs where Tracy Olson obviously flicked the ball into the goal to score, but it was called back. Coach Indriso and Co-Captains Meridith Petran and Olson (otherwise known as Meredithe and Tracy Petrain) protested the call, but to no avail, and HF beat the Scouts 1-0 in overtime.

This slight technical error ended the Scouts' PERFECT (almost) season of 16-1, and handed the Conference Champs a second place state trophy, plus more members on the All-State team than any other school. Seniors Petran, Maggot, um . . . Margot Klimczak, and Junior Anne Kammerer were elected to the All-State Team, with Seniors Jen Andrew, Mindy "Headhunter" Wells, and Anne Karlblom receiving Honorable Mentions.

Other awards given were to Meridith Petran for MVP (thanks guys), Anne Sundberg for MIP, and surprising athletic scholarship nominations to Petran, Olson, and Klimczak. Retired were the golden kickers of Jen Andrew (and her holograms), the Dump trucks of the two captains, Mindy's Hatchet, Andrea's Bowie paraphenalia, Maggot's, um . . . Margot's running shows, Ann Karlblom's flaming bra.

On behalf of Tracy and I, we'd like to thank everyone for the best season possible. There's only one thing we'd change if we could, and you all know what that is. Unfortunately, I don't think Rochelle will ever recover fully. We'd like to leave you with one important word: RESPECT.

Top Scorer was Kurt Kunert with 10 goals followed closely by Rusty Kortev both of these players being captains along with goalies Joe Smovich and Nick Doninger. The most Valuable player was Kurt Kunert and the Most Improved Player was Read (Kringle) Comstock. At the end of the season fans were quoted saying "You know Rusty, you're an ok guy."

Captain Chip McCulloch (after returning from the Niagara Falls area) devoted uncountable hours to the spirit of his team and to improving Brett Hillier's scores. Most valuable player Kevin Ruswick placed first in IHSA Sectionals while the team placed third overall. The team went on to place thirteenth at the IHSA State Final.

Lake Forest Girl's Golf had a rough season with a record of 5 and 7. Captains Kristin Konz and Susie Gwaltney failed to turn in yearbook copy. The most improved players were Lauren Grabowski and Jennifer Eck while the most valuable was Susie Gwaltney. At IHSA Sectionals Susie Gwaltney finished fifth and placed eighteenth at state with scores of 87 and 93.

Dedicated fans of the golf team show up in all weather.

Volleyball

The girl's 1987 varsity volleyball season could best be described as a year of change and improvement. With a 10-18 overall record, Coach Chris Eiserman has already begun to tap her players' potential in the first season. This potential was realized when the varsity team took a first in their own invitational. Players Heather McCormick, Glynnis Graf and Jill Stamison were named members of the all-tournament team. The Scouts then went on to take a hard-fought fourth place at the Hersey tournament.

Although five varsity players, K.T. Ginter, Chris Semler, Jill Stamison, Glynnis Graf and Lisa Huber will be leaving, next year still looks promising. All-conference Heather McCormick, strong-armed Lara Marek, Sara Schliepsiek, Kelly Prindle, Meredith Hockema and Katya Kenney will return next year. Coach Eiserman's changes are working, and the 1988 Varsity team exhibits the potential strong talent needed for a winning season.

The 1987 Varsity team was led by Captains Heather McCormick and Jill Stamison. Most Valuable Player award went to McCormick and Lara Marek was voted Most Improved.

Tennis

The Lake Forest girls' tennis team had an outstanding season, with an overall record of 9-3-1 and a conference record of 8-0, good enough to make them conference champs. Coach Judy Peterson's Scouts also took first place in the North Suburban Conference tournament and in IHSA sectionals. In the State Tournament the team tied for seventh, with the doubles team of Jacqui Strong and Freddy Uihlein winning a medal for their sixth place finish.

The team was captained by Jacqui Strong who was also the Most Valuable Player. Most Improved was senior Shannon Moore.

Under Coach Edie Sorenson's leadership, the Junior Varsity finished in the North Suburban Conference with a record of 7-1. The team was captained by Sarah Wittig. Most Valuable was Brooke Browne and Most Improved Michelle Boyajian.

The 1987 Girls' Swim Team had a good season with a 4-1 conference record. They placed second to Libertyville at the NSC meet, as well as at the Stevenson Patriot Relays. The Scouts' MVP and Workhorse awards both went to Ann Soter; Katie Rozak was most-dedicated, and Jennie Smith the MIP. Rozak, Soter and the medley relay team, freshman Libby Kleine and juniors Stephanie Merriweather, Rozak and Soter all qualified for the state tournament. State Qualifier Don Skrabel

State Qualifier Jeff Farlander

The diving team, coached by Don Dwyer, had a good season in spite of the difficulties encountered when they could not dive at the high school pool and had to travel to the Academy to practice.

The JV team had a great season under new coach Amy Jacobs. JV awards went to Liz Bretho, MVP; Linda Brown, Workhorse; and Esther Beinenstock and Sara Ellerman, MIP's.

The boys' swim team had a most surprising year. At the beginning things looked dim, but with hard work and dedication the team came in a close second in the conference standings. Two seniors, Jeff Farlander and Don Skrabel, qualified for the state meet which was coming up when the yearbook went to press. The team is young and strong and should grow to be one of the strongest teams in Lake Forest history.

Football Cheerleaders

Varsity Football cheerleaders had an excellent season under the direction of Pam Johnson and Pam Foss. A lot of effort was put into supporting the football team and helping to keep up the school spirit both on and off the field. Most Friday nights, the cheerleaders could be found having dinner at one of the football player's homes along with almost the entire football team. As suspense built during the Saturday games, the cheerleaders ran along the field while they watched in anticipation, leading the crowd in short cheers, their favorite of them being, "What do we eat? Belvidere meat — how do we eat it? Raw!!" With an eleven and one record, they had a lot to cheer about.

Soccer Cheerleaders

Soccer cheerleading assures an exciting and fun season. The Friday night dinners, the T.P.ing, all the Scout spirit, and riding on the bus with the guys makes the season so great. But the best thing about soccer cheerleading is definitely the close, long-lasting friendships made. The girls even made it worthwhile baking about 20 batches of cookies for those hungry, soccer guys!

Pom Pons

The LFHS Pom-Pon squad which provides halftime and pep rally entertainment consists of eighteen girls, freshman through senior. The girls practice throughout the year, starting in the summer when they attend the NCA Pom Pon Camp at Rockford College. Their excellent coach, Charlene Ash, is instrumental in the squad's earning thirty-three first place ribbons for individual performance. This year the squad also received a first place trophy for their home routine choreographed by Ann Noble and Kerry O'Keane, assisted by Captain Jenny Appel and Cathy Ashford. The three nominees from the Lake Forest squad for the Celebrity Award were, Jenny Appel, Co-Captain Debbie DeSchutter and Ann Noble. Captain Jenny Appel took home the award and performed in the Aloha Bowl in Hawaii during Christmas break.

Winter Cheerleaders

This year's winter cheerleaders had a great season. They cheered our outstanding basketball team to victory. Without these girls to cheer on the players would the season have been so successful? When we asked them what it was like to be "Rah-Rah"? They replied "Go Scouts Go!"

Don't shoot me, I'm a cheerleader.

Are These Cheerleaders?

This year, like every other year, the cheerleaders have taken a lot of joking. This year we feel it is only proper to honor some of the best and add one last tribute to them.

Eat right or you won't fit into that cute skirt.

Try to pick the cheerleaders out of this group.

Hard at work: using their well developed cheerleading talents.

The Lake Forest High School Basketball team had another great season this year. With players such as All-State Rob Pelinka, Doug Cayce, and Ryan Trigg leading the team, the team was rarely defeated. The team as a whole put on a great show and kept the crowd in their seats until the final bell sounded. "Why", you may ask, "did they keep the scores so close?" Coach Olsen said: "The boys like to put on a show. With the new three point rule it gives them even more of a chance to show the crowd that they are number 1. Sure some of the scores were close because when you get right down to it the Lake Forest High School Basketball Team is a team. When the pressure is on they become one, be it the guys on the court or the ones waiting to go on. This was a great year for teamwork."

Girls Basketball

The 1987-88 Girl's basketball team got off to a great start this year with a one point win over Fenton. Avenging a 65-15 loss from the previous year. Damn! Did that feel good!

Having one win already under their belts, the Lady Scouts expected were high. The Scouts had four returning seniors: Jill Stamison, Jenny Raferty, Jen Goldsberry, and Michelle Murphy. The Lady Scouts also had a new assistant coach, Stephanie Romic, a former all-star of the fighting Illini, to assist Head Coach Bill Bramen. Coach Romic brought a new spark to the games. It looked as if the Lady Scouts might have their first winning season in memorable history. But alas, the winning ride came to a halt as red rider inadvertently wooed and stopped to graze in the pasture as the scouts got lost in a mean losing streak.

Though the lady Scouts were down, they weren't out. They pulled together under the tutalidge of Captains Lara Marek and Jill Stamison and started back on the trail. Red Rider however, was reluctant to leave the pasture and the Scouts lost several games in a row.

The Scouts finished the season with a conference record of 5-13. An improvement over last years record in which no conference games were won. It was a tough season for the girls, but returning juniors Sue Hazen, Suzy Scott, April Eheret, Marina Menecucci, Lara Marek, Katya Kenney, Meridith Hockema, and Carolyn Rudnick the Scouts should be in good shape next year.

With that in mind, the Girls 1987-88 team leaves with there parting thoughts: Stretch session . . . Where are the cookies . . . All day Miss Romic . . . Toto, do you want to dance? . . . This year's wrestling team had a great season. With Seniors like Dan Mulligan and Danny Metzger leading the team, Lake Forest rolled and tumbled like never before. Dan Mulligan, on a once in a lifetime chance, qualified for the state quarterfinals when one of the leaders fell ill the week before the tournament. Mulligan said: "I was so excited to be asked, and there I thought my high school wrestling career was over."

Tumble, Tumble, Bounce and Spring
That's us — your handy gymnastics team.

We're a darn good group of people, and we've had a good season this year that's shown in our 5-1 conference record. The team's season ended with a fifth place at sectionals, but Gail Hamilton went on to State where she had a first place in all-around, as well as a ninth on floor, eighth on bars, and fifth on vault. All in all — a great season!

Intramurals

Intramural Sports are an extension of physical education activities. The basic purpose is to provide an after-school competitive recreational program for all students at Lake Forest High School throughout the school year. Activities include flag football and tennis in the fall; basketball, floor hockey, badminton and table tennis in the winter, and softball in the spring. Two of the winning teams are pictured here.

The LFHS Varsity Hockey Club had a most challenging year. Despite the fact that their head coach quit halfway through the season, the team under Coach Mike Thompkins, continued its hard-hitting, aggressive style of play. While every victory was a team effort, special mention must be made of Senior Russ Thomas and Freshman Scott Dean. Things are looking good for 1988-89.

The Junior Varsity squad, under new coaches Dave Harris, and John Snyder, had a great all around season. Despite a slump around Christmas, the young team had a winning overall record and took the first place trophy in the N.S.C. Founders Cup tournament, to go to the State Tournament. As the yearbook went to press they had just won their first game downstate against St. Charles 8-2.

Because it looks Good!

To the inexperienced, as yet uninvolved Lake Forest High School Student this theme is trite or possibly even false. But, as senior year comes to a close LFHS has a whole new meaning. It is the place where many of us grew up. The high school represents a tie between our juvenile days of eighth grade CROYA dances and the days when social life means driving to Chicago to go to dinner and dancing.

Lake Forest High School has had an effect on us all. Never will we forget the faculty or our friends. We are standing in a doorway asking ourselves if we are coming in or going out. But no matter what road we take we know that LFHS has opened our eyes to the world as a whole. And we know that the doors are always open, calling us to return.

Brad—

I'm glad you enjoyed my brother's gloves. You are a cross between a bother-some gnat and the placid drooling of a radio while studying. Don't get too involved in the wonderful world of sports.

Brad, ♀

It was cool in Chem with your great remarks to Strode keeping us late. It was a shame that we couldn't have Kopriva for 2nd semester.
See you next year.

Brad, (mouth) - I will have to admit there isn't one thing in your mind that you haven't told Mr. Thiel.

for example, your running down to 1st base

after the Antioch

about softball
was awesome
Mr. Gram was
